BRIEF HISTORY

(Adapted from 'A Survey of Archives of Trinidad and Tobago' by Enos Sewlal)

Creation of the Central Statistical Office

In December 1949, Government appointed a Statistician, H. J. Steer, a specialist in National Income Accounting and in July 1950, voted the necessary funds for the establishment of a Statistical Department. The Department operated under the Statistics ordinance Chapter 42 No. 11 of the Constitution. Later on, in 1952, the department was designated the official source of all Government Statistics. Up to 1956 the department was under the administration of the Governor in Council. In October 1956 however, it was placed under the charge of the Chief Minister of the territory. Public Service reform came in 1959 with the Lee Report and in keeping with the policy of localization of the Public Service, Rupert Jackson (Jack) Harewood who had just returned from completing his undergraduate studies in England was groomed to succeed the expatriate Government Statistician, John Steer. Mr Harewood served as Assistant Government Statistician for Trinidad and Tobago during the 1957-1968.

ADMINISTRATIVE HISTORY

National Census and Statistical Data Collection fall under the purview of the Central Statistical Office. This organisation was established under the Statistical Ordinance No. 26 of 1952 - “An Ordinance to provide for the taking of censuses and for the collection, compiling, analysis and publication of statistical information and for other matters relating thereto.” This gave the office immediate legal responsibilities to execute the following functions:

1. Take any census in the Colony;
2. (b) Collect, compile, analyse, abstract and publish statistical information relating to the commercial, industrial, agricultural, mining, economic, social and general activities and conditions of the people of the colony;
3. (c) To collaborate with other Government Departments in the collection, compilation, analysis and publication of statistical records of administration;
4. (d) Generally to organize a coordinated scheme of economic and social statistics relating to the Colony, in accordance with the provisions of the Ordinance.

Subsequent to the passage of the 1952 ordinance a number of other statistical regulations were enacted in order to provide legal sanction for the department to exercise its statutory functions. These functions included providing statistical data, specifically with regard to:

- Births
- Industrial Establishments
- Employment, wages, salaries and earnings
- Annual Land Returns
- Slaughterhouse Returns
- Distribution, Transport and other Services Establishments
- Housing and Population Census
- Agricultural Census
- Industrial or Business Undertakings

By the mid – 1960s, the CSO had become firmly established as the official agency for the dissemination of all Government Statistics. The range of Statistics published extended in scope beyond Overseas Trade and Population and Vital Statistics to include:

- (i) Monthly and Annual Travel Statistics based on Immigration documents;
- (ii) Education Statistics;
- (iii) National Income and Balance of Payments;
- (iv) Financial Statistics;
- (v) Continuous Sample Survey of Publication (C.S.S.P)

This Ordinance was later replaced by the Statistics Act No. 28 of 1980 under the Revised Laws of the Republic of Trinidad and Tobago.

THE 1851 CENSUS

This census is an extraordinary document since it not only gives statistical data but also it is the only one that includes some names of persons who were residing on the island at the time. The document is actually in two pieces, the first being a book that contains statistical returns for the island while the second is a chart which lists a detailed numerical account for the entire island according to County and Ward.

The 1851 Census Book

Statistical returns for the island of Trinidad according to County is within the first quarter of the book. The second part of the book documents the names of persons residing in island but it is limited to County St George only. This is further subdivided by the various Wards and plantations.

The 1851 Census Chart

This chart could be found in the Colonial Office File series – CO300/63 and is dated 1st July, 1851. It is subdivided by the following:

- Sex
- Marital status
- Country of Birth
- Educational Level (by literacy)
- Religious Persuasion
- Age (At time of Census)
- Occupation

THE 1861 CENSUS

This census is available in statistical chart form only. It also can be found in the Colonial Office Files – CO300/72. This chart provides a breakdown for the population of Trinidad by both County and Ward. Statistical data is subdivided by the following fields:

- Marital Status
- Sex
- Country of Birth
- Age (at the time of Census)
- Occupation

It also includes a second page that compares the growth and decline of the population from the last census (1851) to the present (1861). The breakdown for the comparison carries similar headings as the ones previously stated above.

The image shows a page from the 1861 Trinidad Census, titled "TRINIDAD. 1861 CENSUS. 1st July, 1861." The document is a large, detailed table with multiple columns and rows. The columns are organized into several main sections: "RECEPTION" (listing various nationalities and their counts), "RELIGIOUS DEMONSTRATIONS" (listing various religious groups and their counts), and "AGE" (listing age groups and their counts). The rows are organized by county and ward. The table is handwritten and includes a date stamp "1st July, 1861." The document is a statistical chart form, providing a breakdown of the population of Trinidad by both County and Ward. The table is divided into sections for "RECEPTION" and "RELIGIOUS DEMONSTRATIONS". The "RECEPTION" section lists various nationalities and their counts. The "RELIGIOUS DEMONSTRATIONS" section lists various religious groups and their counts. The table is handwritten and includes a date stamp "1st July, 1861." The document is a statistical chart form, providing a breakdown of the population of Trinidad by both County and Ward. The table is divided into sections for "RECEPTION" and "RELIGIOUS DEMONSTRATIONS".

THE 1891 TOBAGO CENSUS

This book gives a detailed account on the statistical returns of the Tobago population in 1891. The information is separated by Ward and Parish. Statistical data is subdivided by the following fields:

- Marital Status
- Age (0-100)
- Sex
- Country of Birth
- Religious Persuasions
- Dwellings
- Professions/Occupations (divided by Mercantile/Agricultural/General)
- Educational Status
- Disabilities

Apart from these headings, the book also details data taken on population density and housing situation by Parish and Village.

The image shows a page from the 1891 Tobago Census. The title is "CENSUS TAKEN ON 5TH APRIL, 1891. TOTAL POPULATION. Conditions and Ages Classified." The table is organized into columns for "Name of Ward", "Name of Parish", "Marital Status", and "Age (0-100 years)". Red lines and circles highlight these specific columns and the corresponding data rows in the table.
